

Jesus gave us His perfect love

Jesus gave us His perfect love – He did not promise us a perfect world. He said you will have tribulations – many tribulations... Do you believe Him, today?

The Lord has permitted two congregations to emerge. Now TWICE as many people can be reached for Christ. What difference does it make whether we are in THE BIG CHURCH or in a small al Qaeda prison cell with a knife at the throat? What kind of witness does the observing world, including muslim friends, receive from our behavior when things do not “go our way?”

Years ago, during a church dispute, when an old, mature (and very experienced), missionary was asked, “Who is right? Whose side are YOU on?” Dear Cora put her hand on my wife’s arm, looked her in the eyes and asked, “Dearie, is it better to be “right” and to “WIN” or is it better to be the oil of healing?” Perhaps Jesus is asking all of us the same question today.

May the oil of healing restore, once again, the oil of gladness in the heart of all of you, beloved friends, who are experiencing this time of spiritual growth. This is a wonderful, real, “life-time” opportunity, directly from the Lord Jesus, to grow UP, and to mature. Until we experience pain, injustice and suffering, and learn to forgive as He forgave us, all our words about love, forgiveness and grace are merely hollow, clanging noises, and our listeners know it!

We have no choice. The Master requires us to learn to love, and to forgive. GROW into maturity, dear friends, by learning how to forgive others who have caused you, or someone you love, pain (Father, forgive them – they do not know what they are doing). Do more than simply move “on,” move UP!

Look UP and move UP to Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith. Do not just “slide past” this situation. Accept it as His test of your heart and your obedience to HIM. Face the test. Let the Lord cleanse and mend you with His love, no matter how painful or difficult it is. An infected wound is always painful to clean, but failure to clean it causes you more harm, possibly loss of an infected limb, or even of life itself. If you have the infection, you are the one who suffers. What do you want to lose during this experience?

If we do not face ourselves and let the Lord clean up OUR reactions (NOT other people’s reactions) we may find ourselves smiling and saying “I have moved on, good day, and Praise the Lord!” while there is still hatred and bitterness in the heart. Would Jesus then say, “Hypocrite! Depart from me, I never knew you?”

The MISSION is the good news. As long as we are bitter and angry, we have no good news to share and our “faith is only another among all powerless religions. If we have learned how to love and forgive, we then have a powerful and meaningful message to share. What message do you have today? One of God’s power which is made great in our weakness, or one of man’s power, which denies the power of God?

Whenever judgment day comes for each of us, will Jesus listen to our protests about one another, or will He say, “Well done, good and faithful servant. You learned, you grew up in the Truth, and you have produced fruit. Now, take your inheritance...”

I want to hear those words on that day. Et tu?
